Service Animals

Commissionaires Great Lakes is committed to welcoming people with disabilities whom a service animal accompanies. Commissionaire's staff are appropriately trained in interacting with people with disabilities whom a service animal accompanies.

Customer Service Policy for the Provision of Services to Persons with Disabilities

There may be rare circumstances where, for reasons of Health and Safety of another person, allowing a person with a disability to enter a premise accompanied by a service animal needs to be considered. Examples of such situations include but are not limited to: a) a client's site where chemicals and/or equipment present hazards to other persons and/or to the service animal; and b) where a person is allergic to animals and adversely affected if they are in close proximity to a service animal. If deemed necessary, the relevant Manager will conduct a risk assessment in consultation with Occupational Health and Safety. This assessment will identify: a) the risks inherent with the service animal being in the area of concern; and b) alternate measures available to enable the person with a disability to access this service.

If it is not readily apparent that an animal is a service animal, the person with the Service animal may be asked to provide verification of the animal's duty. The use and safety of the service animal is the responsibility of the person with a disability. If the person does not have proof and insists that it is a service animal, then the benefit of the doubt should go to the person claiming that it is a service animal.

Support Persons

Commissionaires is committed to welcoming people with disabilities whom a support person accompanies. Any person with a disability whom a support person accompanies will be allowed to enter public areas of the company to which they would normally have access with their support person. At no time will a person with a disability accompanied by a support person be prevented from having access to his or her support person while on the premises.

Commissionaires is committed to developing customer service policies that respect and promote the dignity and independence of people with disabilities. Commissionaires develop and update policies, procedures and practices in such a manner as to respect and promote the dignity and independence of people with disabilities, as well as integration and equality of opportunity.
